

Peter Mahan

Biography

Peter received an Associates degree in Communication Design from RIT in 1981, a Bachelors of Science in Art from Nazareth College in Rochester in 1985, and a Masters of Science in Art Education from Nazareth in 1990.

Peter recently retired in 2016 after spending 31 years as an art teacher in New York State public schools, and taught photography at the high school level for nearly 30 years. He developed a passion for traditional silver-based film photography in 1989 and as a result, had numerous black and white photographs exhibited throughout upstate New York for over 20 years. In 2013 he finally made the switch to digital and celebrated with an exhibit at Szozda Gallery in Syracuse entitled "Discovery of Being." His most recent success involves having work accepted into the Cooperstown National Exhibit for the past three years, holding a dual exhibit at the Art Association of Oswego in the fall of 2017, and having work displayed at the Image City Art Gallery in Rochester numerous times since 2014.

Peter has a personal website that features much of his traditional black and white photography and plenty of the digital work he's created since 2013:
