Biography

I use numbers to construct my paintings. Numbers are the world's best known and universally most recognizable abstract images.

Everyone in the world uses numbers at one time or another. Their unique mathematical sequence system of 0 - 9 limits the use of ten forms only. While numbers are constant, orderly, exact, reliable, objective and universal, some numbers can produce intense emotions.

I break down and rearrange numbers into forms that are personal, subjective, chaotic, emotional, distorted and biased. That is my art.
